

CHESHIRE COUNTY GOLF PARTNERSHIP

Press release

08.08.2011

For immediate use

WOULD-BE players in Cheshire are being encouraged to discover golf this week.

Anyone inspired by the recent sight of Darren Clarke's victory in the Open Championship now has the perfect opportunity to give the sport a try.

Discover Golf in a Week tees off today (Monday, August 8) and will culminate in a grand finale at Adlington Golf Centre, near Macclesfield, on Sunday, August 14.

A family fun day is being held at the club from 10am-4pm and will feature free golf tuition, custom fitting of clubs, a nine hole par 3 competition and other golfing activities.

The Discover Golf in a Week event supports the county's new Go4Green programme, which is running throughout the summer and offers five one-hour group coaching sessions with a qualified PGA professional at the bargain price of just £20 per person.

Bromborough Golf Club, on Wirral, is offering a half price green fee of just £22.50 for anyone teeing off between 3pm and 4pm on any day between the Monday and Friday of golf week. The club is also holding a Taylormade fitting day on Friday, August 12 (1.30pm-5.30pm).

Regional development officer Melanie Flude said: "Golf is the only sport that can be competitive at all ages and by all abilities and has health benefits as well as the sporting and social enjoyment. A round of golf equates to 12,000 steps or a 45 minute workout, improves flexibility, strength and overall fitness."
